Belle Glade Juniors Defeat Pahokee 19-6

Coach Leland Keen's Pahokee Junior High football team opened the season in a game with the Belle Glade Juniors at Belle Glade Tuesday night and went down to defeat, 19 to 6, the same score that Clewiston imposed on Blue Devils in their opener.

Pahokee scored in the fourth quarter when Baby Carlton connected with a 25-yard pass from Benny Sims and carried the ball across for a TD. Belle Glade got one touchdown in the first quarter and two in the fourth.

Bond Election To Be Held Oct. 11

Harold Rosenberg Secretary of the East Beach Water Control District has previously submitted to the freeholders of the Pahokee area pertinent facts pertaining to the bond issue to be voted upon at the Pahokee City Hall on Tuesday, October 11th. Mr. Rosenberg states that undoubtedly lots will, when properly drained, be worth far more to the property owner in cash value in as much as property frequently covered by flood water will be available for building purposes. Those homes now built on such lots will of course also increase in value because of the greater sanitary conditions created by the efficient, modern pumping facilities to be installed.

At this time, many farmers are having, for their own protection, to pump their excess water into the now inadequate system, thereby flooding others and spending many dollars in this pumping operation. Some farmers have no place in which to pump their water and consequently loose crops repeatedly. These conditions should be corrected, according to Secretary Rosenberg, upon the installation of the new drainage system.

The above mentioned official has recently stated that at the end of a two or three year period the $30,000.00 Reserve Fund, provided for in the Legislative Act, will be collected and in the bank at which time a reduction of from 15 percent to 25 percent can be made in taxes to both lot owners and holders of farm lands.

The schedule of taxes as proposed is as follows:

Less than .10 acre, $2.30 per year.
Larger than .10 acre, but not more than .20 acre, $2.75 per year.
Larger than .20 acre, but not more than .30 acre, $3.20 per year.
Larger than .30 acre, but not more than .40 acre, $3.60 per year.
Larger than .40 acre, but not more than .50 acre, $4.00 per year.
Larger than .50 acre, but not more than .60 acre, $4.40 per year.
Larger than .60 acre, but not more than .70 acre, $4.80 per year.
Larger than .70 acre, but not more than .80 acre, $5.20 per year.
Larger than .80 acre, but not more than .90 acre, $5.60 per year.
Larger than .90 acre, but not more than 1 acre, $6.00 per year.
Proposed Farm Acreage Bond Tax, $3.00 per acre per year.

Large Crowd Attends The Dedication Of New Airport

(From The Palm Beach Post)

An estimated 5,000 persons heard County Commissioner Paul Rardin envision a "great future" for the Palm Beach County Glades Airport between Pahokee and Belle Glade at dedication ceremonies staged Sunday at the field.

The day-long program was highlighted by a luncheon for visiting officials and pilots, a spot-landing contest during the morning, which was won by student pilot Craig McAuley, St. Petersburg, and a crop-dusting demonstration by Gil Galbaldon, Pahokee.

A special feature was the appearance and short aerial acrobatic demonstration of the jet "Rockets", the Florida Air National Guard's 159th Fighter Sqdn.

Col. Bill D. Haviland, commander, led the two jets, which roared at 600 mph over the field to launch the afternoon program at 2. The jets, who flew to the new airport from Jacksonville, performed slow rolls in formation and "dives" on the field several times. They continued on to Tampa for special refueling.

Mr. Rardin, who with the Pahokee Lions Club spearheaded the move for the airport, told the crowd that "I'm here today to justify to you the $160,000 expenditure on construction of this airport, which was a joint county CAA project."

He pointed out the extent of farming in the Lake Okechobee area, adding that "with the water control program now set up for South and Central Florida, this area will realize millions of dollars more in agricultural and other industries which today, perhaps, do not seem possible."

"And that," he said, "is where this airport will come in—for we in this entire area will be able to send our produce to Northern and Western markets—in addition to having regular passenger flights; and, as I said, possibly other industries which will probably take place in this area in the not too distant future."

At the present time, he disclosed, "our green corn, celery and green beans can be shipped out from the Glades from this field—in addition to flowers for northern markets."

Mr. Rardin outlined the growth of the Glades area and the main industries which came before farming.

He announced that "the Bacom Point Road will be built from Pahokee to beyond this field, and within two years the State Road Dept. will build the road on to Chosen and the Belle Glade area, so the airport will be accessible to all communities," and midway between Belle Glade and Canal Point.

County Commission Chairman Lake Lytal, speaking both at the luncheon and at the dedication program, emphasized that "this airport is for the entire Glades area—we want all the people in this area to feel it is theirs and to cooperate for its success."

At the luncheon served at the Pahokee Woman's Club for 125 officials and pilots by the Pahokee Lions, the Canal Point Lions and the Pahokee Rotary Club, Mr. Rardin acted as master of ceremonies and introduced State Rep. B. Elliott, who said that "we in this area have waited a long time for this airport and we must all cooperate to assure its success."

Other officials introduced by Mr. Rardin: Belle Glade Mayor Harold Rabin, Belle Glade Councilmen N. D. Lloyd, W. L. Collins and Junius Harris; South Bay Mayor W. M. Jeffries; Pahokee Mayor T. C. Richardson; Pahokee Rotary President Frank Shaughnessy, Pahokee Lions President Emmett Holt and Canal Point Lions President A. R. Harrington.

Also introduced at the luncheon were officials from West Palm Beach who attended the ceremonies as guests of Norman Reichelt, Eastern Air Lines district manager. The guests were flown to and from the new airport in an EAL DC-3.

They were: County Commissioner John Prince; County Commissioner and Mrs. Kenneth P. Foster; Col. L. B. Hickam, county aviation director, and Mrs. Hickam; Mayor and Mrs. William P. Holland; Bob Delaney; James L. Turnage; Miss Lucille Turnage; County Engineer J. M. Boyd; Mrs. B. M. Boyd; Post-Times Associate Editor Tom Penick; and Photographer Sam Quincey; Zack Mosley, creator of the "Smilin' Jack" comic strip, acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced Waldron (Wally) Shanz, Florida State Improvement Commission supervisor, Tallahassee.

CAA officials present were Richard E. Roode, Chief Airway Operations Division; Lloyd R. Susdorf, Chief Airport Traffic Control Section, and George E. Garmanflow, Deputy Chief Airports Branch, all from CAA Second Region headquarters at Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Mosley presented prizes to Robert Albry, 19, Miami, who was the youngest pilot present, and to G. N. Hutchinson, 57, Miami, who was the oldest pilot present.

After the official program was completed, spectators viewed the EAL DC-3 and other planes on the field.

A courtesy flight on the DC-3 was given to Mayor Rabin, Commissioners Lloyd Collins and Harris; Mrs. H. M. McIntosh, A. E. Morgan, Constable Francis Cross, Canal Point; Constable Ray Whitlock, Belle Glade; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ramey, Pahokee; Donna Hillier and Marian Jones, both Pahokee, who registered visiting pilots; Mayor Jeffries, Mr. Harrington, Mr. Shaughnessy, Mr. Holt, Rep. Elliott, Mayor Richardson and Osceola Uptegrove, Canal Point postmaster.

Transportation to the luncheon was furnished by Pahokee and Canal Point Lions Club members. The Pahokee Boy Scouts were in charge of soft-drink concessions at the program.

SECRETARY OF THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

What about Florida's tomorrow? How will people react to the sales tax? What attitude will the tourist take? How about the coming citrus season? Will the Citrus Mutual succeed and result in a stabilized industry with orderly marketing of the coming season's crop?

How effective will state advertising be under the new commission and new agencies? Will new industries be attracted to the state? What about tourist prospects for the coming season? How will this tourist business affect the state's economy? How will Florida fare in the expenditure of Federal funds? How much will be spent on the inland waterway and intercoastal canal, on flood control, housing and other projects?

Will the sales tax provide enough money to meet the state's financial needs or will it fall short and necessitate additional taxes as some contend? What effect will the Everglades National Park have in bringing people to Florida? Will public health and welfare programs be expanded?

An attempt will be made to find the answer to these and many other questions by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce when it stages its annual conference at Jacksonville, November 13, 14, 15.

In announcing the coming meeting, president Walter L. Hays said, "We propose to forecast Florida's tomorrow. That means we will look into tomorrow's citrus situation, tomorrow's industrialization, tomorrow's advertising, tomorrow's tourist prospect—in fact everything that will indicate what lies ahead for Florida."

Under the able leadership of executive vice president Harold Cole, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has become the state's one great clearing-house for the exchange of ideas and information necessary for the growth and progress of the state.

Keynote of the meeting will be George B. Hill, industrial engineer of Jacksonville. Few men are better acquainted with the state and its industrial potentialities or better qualified to lead a discussion of Florida's Tomorrow.

Sensors Claude Pepper and Spessard L. Holland as well as several members of our congressional delegation will be in attendance to bring Floridians up to date on national affairs.

A familiar newcomer to Florida, the Honorable William D. Pauley, now head of Miami's transit system and former United States Ambassador to Brazil, will discuss the industrial outlook. Following him will be Ralph A. Morgan, director of the Engineering and Industrial Experiment Station at Gainesville, who will outline the steps to be taken by communities concerned with the development of their industrial economy.

Although at that particular time he will probably be the busiest man in Florida getting the new sales tax in operation, State Comptroller C. M. Gay will be on hand to speak objectively on the problem of financing state government and he should be in a position to answer a lot of questions that business executives will have to ask.

Leading the discussion of Florida's citrus outlook will be Marvin H. Walker, former manager of the Florida Citrus Commission and now assistant to the president of the Florida's Cannery's Cooperative of Lake Wales.

Two newspaper editors, John D. Pennekamp of Miami and John D. Montgomery of Miami Beach, the former, chairman of the State Park and Historical Monument Board, and the latter, vice-chairman of the State Advertising Commission, will outline the Park System as a potential revenue producer and the national advertising program, respectively.

Those concerned with tourist prospects and who want to see the state make the most of its opportunity in this direction will find much of interest in remarks to be made by Dr. Charles M. Taylor, one of the South's leading economists who is attending the conference as a representative of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. He is scheduled to speak on the subject of Florida's tourist economy.

The forthcoming statewide conference will be the 33rd sponsored by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and officials of the organization are determined to make it, the best in the organization's history. Five hundred or more top-flight business leaders from all sections of the state are expected to attend.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Rated as the "funniest," "top-rating," "Rollicking," "Year's best" comedy "It Happens Every Spring" will bow onto the Prince Theatre Sunday-Monday, with Ray Milland playing the part of "Kelly," a character everyone loves including Jean Peters, his sweetheart.

Milland, who was once a trooper in the Kings' Royal Guards, in England, and is rated as one of the finest boxers in Hollywood's film colony, pours his 180 pounds into a baseball suit in this picture, inventing a repellent which causes him to miss the "apple" and thus making "Kelly" a very valuable and famous man.

That personable chap, Paul Douglas adds to the hilarity in the role of a catcher, and Miss Peters, of course, is the "heart-throb" in the picture.

The story is magnificently adapted to comedy and the producers and director have brought out every last laugh that is to be squeezed into a story.

I am sure you'll come away from the theatre with an aching side from laughter.

See you at the movies—Mal.

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE — With some "reluctance," Governor Warren okayed the limited sales tax and its companion money bills of the recent special legislative session. In a statement to the public, the governor pointed out that he is faced with a choice between letting schools close, old age pensions stop and state machine run down, or accepting a sales tax limited to items which are not necessities of life. He said the sales tax program exempts nearly everything that persons of small income must buy or pay for. The new tax program is expected to pour 40 millions a year into the general fund, but will take away cigarette tax money to finance the cities, and part of the gasoline tax to pave county roads. The sales tax will be collected by Comptroller C. M. Gay, who plans to set up the collection agency to start November 1.

the cities and six and a half million a year to the counties. Under the new laws, the cities must reduce property taxes; counties are not required to make any reduction.

TALLAHASSEE — Richard A. Mack, member of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, has been called to Washington to sit with Federal Communications Commission in hearings involving the Bell telephone system and Western Union. In this hearing, starting October 4, the Florida commissioner acts as a "co-operator" and in effect represents all the state commissions in a hearing involving nationwide question of jurisdiction between the largest telephone system and the largest telegraph company. The hearings will determine to what extent the Bell system gets out of the telegraph field and Western Union retires from the leasing of its wires for voice transmission.

TALLAHASSEE — Governor Warren is riding in a mortgage-free automobile these days. He confirmed a report from the Commercial Bank of Panama City that he was paid off, on time, the $3,000 note he signed which was mortgaged by his own automobile. He made the loan when he stopped drawing part of his salary. He announced that he still is drawing a clipped compensation.

Chemicals Will Rid Garden Of Nematodes, Station Worker Says

GAINESVILLE — Garden soil may be rid of root-knot nematodes by treating it with any of four chemicals that have proved effective for this purpose, according to Dr. W. B. Tisdale, plant pathologist with the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

The chemicals are Uramon, DD, chloropicrin, and methyl bromide. Uramon may be broadcast over the surface by hand, according to Dr. Tisdale, while DD, chloropicrin, and methyl bromide must be applied with a "gun" that will inject the materials into the soil.

If DD, chloropicrin, or methyl bromide is used, the garden soil should be marked off in one-foot squares and one teaspoonful of the material should be injected at each corner of each square. After the material is injected, the soil should be tamped with the foot. Treated soil should be worked a week or so later to enable it to air before planting seed.

Citrus Mutual Release List Of Handlers

LAKELAND — A list of 171 Florida citrus shippers and cannerys who have signed handler contracts with Florida Citrus Mutual was released this week to Mutual's 6409 growers.

Mutual officials said they believed the list as it stands today affords ample shipping and processing facilities to Mutual growers, but added that they expect to receive other handler contracts from day to day.

A. V. Saurman, Mutual president, said that it will be a "welcome change" in the Florida citrus picture to have an experienced group of operators working together in a well planned marketing program instead of "continuing the ruthless competition which has proved so disastrous in the past."

"Mutual's success," Saurman declared, "will depend upon continued loyalty to the principle upon which it was founded: fairness, good will and unity among those who grow the fruit and those who market it for them as shippers, cannerys and concentrators."

"Mutual will continue to welcome all handlers who will cooperate fairly and honestly in the achievements of Mutual's objectives," he said.

The list of handlers can be had by applying to the Florida Citrus Mutual.

23 Firemen Overcome In Miami Fire

MIAMI—Twenty-three firemen were overcome by smoke and two were hospitalized fighting a stubborn blaze in the warehouse section of the Miami Herald which damaged paper stock and equipment to an estimated $600,000.

While the fire raged in another part of the building, Miami Herald employees stuck to their jobs and completed the run of the Sunday morning issue. Herald employees carried bundles through fire lines to waiting trucks.

Col. Matthews Tells Of Water Control Value To State

TALLAHASSEE — Water control improvements for the Everglades agricultural area as tentatively planned for under the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project call for a gigantic network of canals and levees totaling approximately 318 miles, and making necessary the moving of an approximate 38,833,000 cubic yards of earth with the whole cost of the unit estimated at $36,587,000.

Col. A. G. Matthews, Chief Engineer of the State Division of Water Survey and Research, predicted here recently that the vast system of water control works south of Lake Okechobee will jump the annual dollar return from Everglades agricultural production to more than a hundred million dollars.

New land to be brought into production by the project amounts to 527,000 acres. "But we must remember that increased production in the Everglades is not the only benefit which will be derived from the work done out there," Matthews declared.

"Like all other parts of the plan," he said, "this part has a direct bearing on water control measures in other basins, more particularly the southeast coast, and Lake Okechobee in this instance."

The technique of maintaining the water table at the most efficient level in all seasons will reach a fine point in the Everglades development.

For example, eight great pumping stations located strategically around the rim of the basin will be able to remove approximately 13,960 cubic feet of water a second from the agricultural area into Lake Okechobee and the big water conservation areas to the east and south.

A considerable share of the work to be done in the Everglades will be improvements to the four old main canals which have never operated as efficiently as it was planned they should. They are the West Palm Beach, Hillsboro, North New River, and the Miami canals.

New Outboard Champ Wins At Lake Alfred

LAKE ALFRED—Marshall Eldridge, of Lakeland, driving his powerful X class motor, won the featured free-for-all event at the national outboard championships here last Sunday. Off to a poor start and last to round the first of eight bays, Eldridge caught the other 10 racers one by one until he broke out in front with only yards to go.

His time in the special on-beat race for any type of motor boat was five minutes 3.8 seconds. He averaged 59.490 miles an hour for the five-mile course. The victory brought him two of the meet's biggest trophies, the Motorboating Magazine award and the State of Tennessee perpetual trophy.

A heavy rain slowed up the racers so no records were set. It also drenched the estimated 7,000 spectators. Paul Weary, of Muncie, Ind., is the new Class B champion with a first and a second.

Richard Gedhardt, of Springfield, Ill., won the C service runabout title from Bud Wiget, of Concord, Calif., in a close point finish.

Horse Race Dates Remain Unchanged

TALLAHASSEE — The controversial bill to reshuffle Florida horse racing dates was withdrawn from legislative consideration on the closing day last Saturday after a filibuster was launched against it in the Senate. The measure was withdrawn by Senator Leard, of Fort Lauderdale, with final passage of any local bills during the closing hours of the special session.

The Gulfstream Bill, as it was known, which created a storm of controversy during the regular session when it was defeated by a 19-19 tie vote and had been before the Senate all last week, would have divided the 120-day racing period into six 20-day periods. Tracks would have been allowed to choose two periods each, making their choice in the order of their betting take.

The effect would have been to give Hialeah Park its same mid-season 40 days but allow Gulfstream to take the 20 days on each side. Tropical Park then would have been left with the scant opening and closing days of the Florida racing season. Tropical Park officials said it would have put them out of business. Hialeah, which two years ago put through a bill giving them the middle 40 in a three-period racing season, joined in opposing the measure.

Mrs. Lawrence W. Connell and infant son, Dennis Wayne, returned home Tuesday from Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach where Dennis Wayne was born on Sept. 28.

Will Spend $168,000 To Fight Cancer

TAMPA — More than $168,000 will be spent by the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society fighting cancer in the next twelve months.

The money, contributed by the people of Florida to the Society in the annual fund drive led last spring by Dan McCarthy, of Fort Pierce, will be used to finance cancer control activities ranging all the way from high-level scientific research to the transportation of indigent cancer patients to treatment centers.

Allocation of funds to various control measures was made by the Florida Division's State Executive Committee of medical authorities and business men, and was made public here today by Mrs. Malcolm Smith, State Commander of the Society.

Largest amount — $70,466.33 — will finance 20 special control activities in 14 counties in strategic locations over the state. Approximately $7,000 is to provide transportation to and from treatment centers for cancer patients in all counties who are unable to pay the cost themselves and could not receive treatment in any other way.

Next largest amount — $36,000 — was assigned to the program of cancer research seeking to find the causes and cure for all types of cancer, and an additional $21,600 was allocated to help defray the costs of the national educational and administrative programs.

Fifteen thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars will be spent in Florida on an extensive cancer education program, termed by control experts as the first line of defense in stopping the more than 1,500 preventable deaths the disease is causing in the state every year.

Cost of administering the statewide program was set at $12,123.55, less than nine cents out of each dollar contributed by the public. Another $12,000 was set aside to cover the cost of the combined educational-fund raising campaign next April.

Kirkman Cautions Drivers About Safety

"Slow down at sundown!"

That was the advice today of Director H. N. Kirkman, who heads the Florida Highway Patrol's October campaign for safety on our highways and streets.

"Last year," Kirkman said, "More than 700 citizens of Florida were killed in automobile accidents. Of these, 400 were fatalities that occurred at night." These deaths make it obvious, according to the Florida Highway Patrol, that night driving is more dangerous than ordinary day driving.

The causes of traffic deaths after sunset and ways to prevent them are the objectives of this month's traffic safety program. With the days in October becoming shorter and with much of the late afternoon traffic occurring after dark, the need for more caution and less speed becomes increasingly important.

"In cities," Kirkman said, "night accidents are responsible for almost two-thirds of the traffic fatalities. In the country, more than half of all fatal accidents take place at night."

The following special traffic hazards were listed as factors in

1. Reduced visibility.
2. Variance between "safe" speeds at night and in daylight.
3. Fatigue.
4. Drinking Drivers.
5. Failure of pedestrians to realize that they can see approaching cars far more quickly than the drivers can see them.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, October 9.

The Golden Text is: "God is merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations" (Ps. 67:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; . . . And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him" (Mark 1:23 (to :), 25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.' Is it possible, then, to believe that the evils which Jesus lived to destroy are real of the offspring of the divine will?" (474:18.)
